Center News:

- Many young children and adults are allergic to nuts. LCC has decided to become a nut free center due to one of our children being allergic to nuts. So we are asking families not to bring in any food products with nuts or made with a nut ingredient into the center.
- LCC realizes how important it is that both teachers in each classroom connect, communicate, and build a relationship with each child, and his/her family. In order for teachers to build relationships with the parents and child we are asking our teachers to rotate the early and late shift. We are hoping this change will allow us to build stronger relationships and improve our education program.
- We would like to introduce and welcome our new volunteer Melanie Sonner to LCC.
- Make sure you check out some of the changes we have made to the Liberty Community Center's website. We are adding and changing some of information to keep you updated on the latest news happening at the center.

Volunteer Opportunities:

LCC has partnered with Habitat for Humanity to make major improvements to the Infant and Toddler deck. LCC is looking for volunteers on Saturday's to help with this project, during the hours of 8:30am – 2:30pm.

LCC will also be hosting Make a Difference Day on October 25, 2014. We have volunteers coming in this day to help spruce up our center. The volunteers will be painting the Bridge K and Lion room, painting the white fence near the front of the building and other projects around the center. Parents are welcome to sign up on the volunteer sheet located on bulletin board to join us in the Making a Difference Day.

Field Trip: Lehner's Pumpkin Farm

Many of our children this month will be visiting Lehner's Pumpkin Farm. Please make sure your child is dressed appropriately to be outside and in old clothes and shoes. Each room has a scheduled day and time; please make sure you have your child at the center on time or before the scheduled time to leave.

Thanks:

- We want to thank PPG for their donation to our Diaper Bank.
- The LCC staff also wants to thank all the PPG employees for their contributions, donations and dedication to our center
- We also want to thank Randy Applegate for updating and helping us make changes to our website.
